

From: Brian Shock
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 12:03am
Subject: Microsoft Antitrust Case

Dear Sirs:

Even as a software developer who primarily uses Microsoft products for his livelihood, I am extremely disappointed by the decision not to punish Microsoft. This company is a monopoly by every definition, and in the worst tradition of monopolies, uses questionable or illegal practices to stifle competition.

Regardless of the reasoning behind failing to pursue the antitrust case against Microsoft, publicly this looks very much like criminal conspiracy between the Justice Department (along with the Bush Administration in general) and big business.

Brian Shock
Phoenix, AZ
brianshock1@home.com